This morning E. left for Staunton Hill with David and Nicholas. Sasha was not able to go down with them as she has the chicken pox.

Secretary's office.

Bill Foster telephoned me and we agreed that as he was testifying on the Hill, and we had pretty well covered everything in last week's meeting of the Psychological Strategy Board, there would be no necessity to hold a luncheon meeting tomorrow.

Phil Bonsal brought in a proposed press release for the Secretary regarding the Letourneau visit. I made a few changes.

I attended a conference with M. Jean Letourneau, Ambassador-designate to Cambodia and Vietnam, Donald Heath, Messrs. Allison, Perkins, Lacy and Bonsal. At the conclusion of the meeting photographs were taken.

I saw Mr. William G. Fletcher at the request of Congressman Herter.

Lunched with "Doc" Matthews in the Secretary's dining room.

Met with Messrs. Matthews, Ferguson, Jessup, Sandifer, Nitze, Wainhouse, Barbour, and Sargeant on our reply to Malik's charges of use of germ warfare in Korea, which he proposes to make at meeting of the Security Council called by him for this afternoon.

Allan Evans, [redacted] now Director of the Office of Intelligence Research, came [redacted] to see me.

The new Ambassador of Thailand came [redacted] to pay a courtesy call.

Mike McDermott brought in Jack Reed of Time Magazine and Fred Kuh of the Chicago Sun Times.
